

Dear GSHCC Volunteer,

During this special month dedicated to celebrating volunteers, I want to take a moment to recognize something truly meaningful—your dedication.

Every day, you choose to give your time, your energy, and your heart to Girl Scouts. That choice may seem simple, but the impact it creates is extraordinary. Because of you, girls have someone who believes in them, encourages them, and helps them see possibilities they may not have seen in themselves before.

Your dedication reminds girls that they are capable, valued, and supported. It shows them what leadership, kindness, and community truly look like. And while the girls are learning from you, you are also helping shape a future where more young women grow up believing in their power to lead and change the world. That kind of impact cannot be measured—but it can absolutely be felt.

Please know that your dedication does not go unnoticed. It is deeply appreciated, and it is at the very heart of everything we do as an organization.

This month—and every month—we celebrate you. Thank you for showing up, for believing in girls, and for making Girl Scouts a place where they can grow into the leaders they are meant to be.

With heartfelt gratitude,

Dr. Linda E. Farley, CEO
Girl Scouts Heart of Central California
